

Brain & Development

The award for contributing to increased citations in 2025

Honoring the top three most cited papers published in Brain & Development (2023-2024) as of the 2025 Scopus data. Their high citation counts reflect their significant contribution to and recognition within the scientific literature.

Editorial Board of Brain & Development

Object identification in cerebral visual impairment characterized by gaze behavior and image saliency analysis

Manley CE, Walter K, Micheletti S, Tietjen M, Cantillon E, Fazzi EM, Bex PJ, Merabet LB.

Brain Dev 2023;45(8):432-444. DOI: 10.1016/j.braindev.2023.05.001

Long-term efficacy of intrathecal cyclodextrin in patients with Niemann-Pick disease type C

Matsuo M, Sakakibara T, Sakiyama Y, So T, Kosuga M, Kakiuchi T, Ichinose F, Nakamura T, Ishitsuka Y, Irie T.

Brain Dev 2024;46(5):207-212. DOI: 10.1016/j.braindev.2024.03.002

Muscle impairment in MRI affect variability in treatment response to nusinersen in patients with spinal muscular atrophy type 2 and 3: A retrospective cohort study

Shimizu-Motohashi Y, Chiba E, Mizuno K, Yajima H, Ishiyama A, Takeshita E, Sato N, Oba M, Sasaki M, Ito S, Komaki H.

Brain Dev 2023;45(3):161-170. DOI: 10.1016/j.braindev.2022.11.002

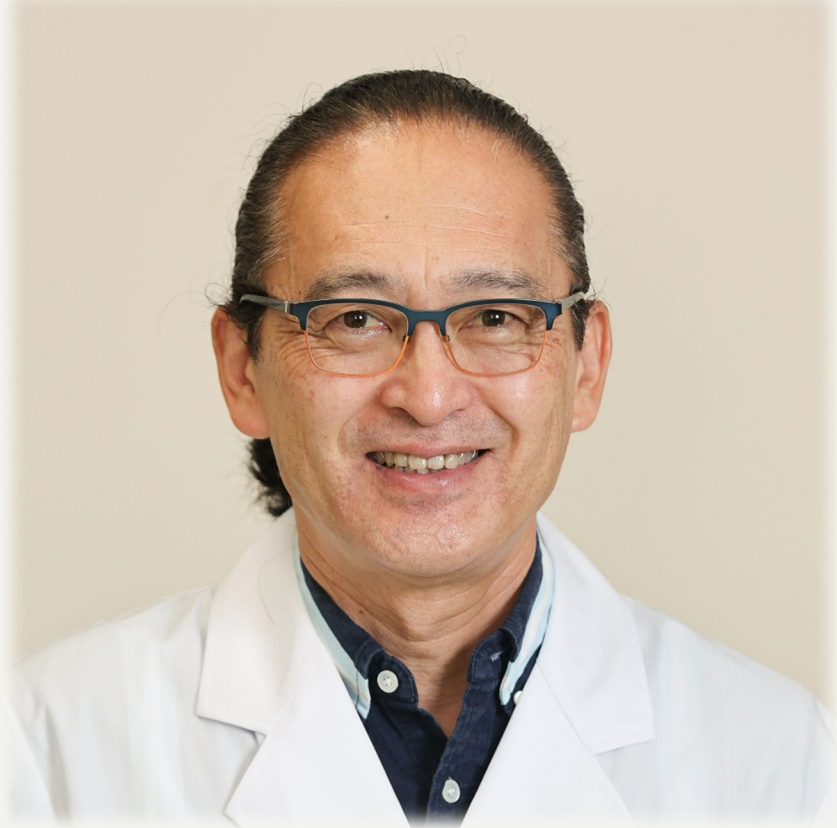

Japanese Society of Child Neurology

Brain & Development

Best Reviewer Award in 2025

Best Reviewer

Ken Inoue

National Center of Neurology and Psychiatry, Japan

Acknowledging the dedication of our 305 reviewers who generously contributed their time and expertise to Brain & Development in 2025. Among them, we proudly honor the Best Reviewer and Outstanding Reviewers for their exceptional commitment. Their expertise and meticulous work in the peer-review process are critical in ensuring the impact and advancement of scholarly research within our field. We extend our sincere gratitude for their significant contributions.

Editorial Team of Brain & Development

Outstanding Reviewers

Sui Sone

Tokyo Metropolitan
Higashiyamato Medical Center for People with Developmental/Multiple
Disabilities, Japan

Yasunari Sakai

Kyushu University,
Japan

Yukifumi Monden

Jichi Medical University,
Japan

Tadashi Shiohama

International University of
Health and Welfare, Japan

Mitsuru Kashiwagi

Hirakata City Hospital,
Japan

Yoshimi Kaga

University of Yamanashi,
Japan

Ichiro Kuki

Osaka City General
Hospital, Japan

Yuji Ito

Nagoya University,
Japan

Ryuki Matsuura

Saitama Children's Medical Center, Japan

Masahiro Kawaguchi

Nagoya University, Japan

Kenjiro Kikuchi

Saitama Children's Medical Center, Japan

Munetsugu Hara

Kurume University, Japan

*Japanese
Society of Child
Neurology*

Brain and Development Case Reports

Best Reviewer Award in 2025

Best Reviewer

Kaoru Eto

Tokyo Women's Medical University, Japan

Acknowledging the valuable contributions of our 140 reviewers who supported Brain and Development Case Reports with their expertise in 2025. Among them, we recognize the Best Reviewer and Outstanding Reviewers for their remarkable dedication. Their solid knowledge and diligent work in the peer-review process are key for the validity and supporting the progress of scholarly communication in our field. We sincerely appreciate their invaluable contributions.

Editorial Team of Brain and Development Case Reports

Outstanding Reviewers

Toshiyuki Seto

Osaka Metropolitan University, Japan

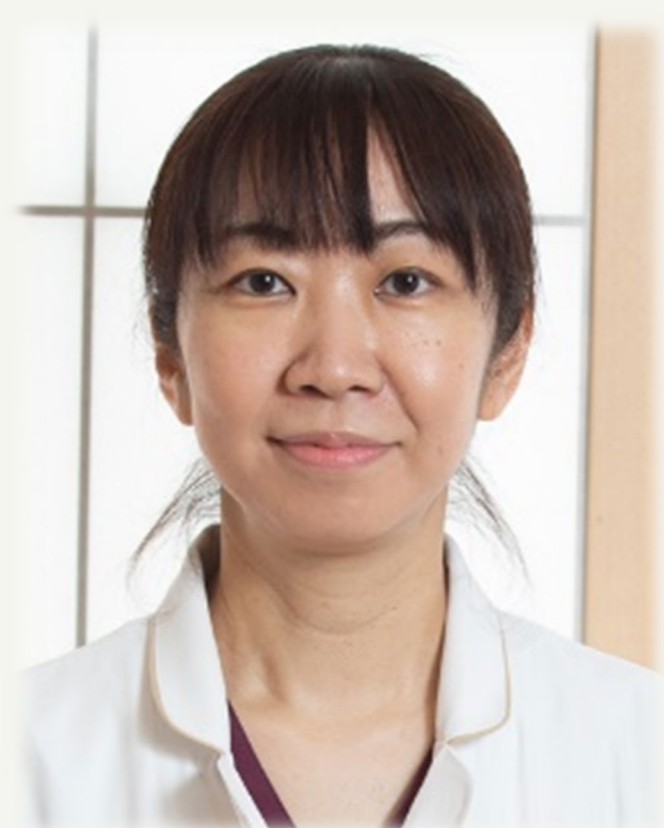

Shin Nabatame

Osaka National Hospital, Japan

Hiroyuki Awano

Tottori University, Japan

Eri Takeshita

National Center of Neurology and Psychiatry,
Japan

Tetsuya Okazaki

Okayama University, Japan

Tomoki Maeda

Oita University, Japan

We sincerely thank all reviewers who support
Brain and Development Case Reports.

Brain and Development Case Reports is an open-access journal dedicated to clinically valuable case reports in child neurology.

Call for Papers

Scan to learn more! →

Japanese
Society of
Child
Neurology